

Interview guideline

1. Introduce yourself and your background.
2. Introduce quick your project – a 60 sec pitch is perfect!
3. Why did you choose to make your solution and not using an existing one?
4. What impact do you expect to have on your industry or the world as a whole with your work?
5. What trends are you seeing in your industry that you're particularly excited about, and why?
6. What inspired you to develop #yourvision, and how did you hone it over time?
7. How do you think achieving this vision will impact the people around you and the community as a whole?
8. Best way to contact you

This is just a guideline, I will pick some parts of your story and ask for details.

Please send me a good photo of you and a bio about yourself. Also links to your project. This I need to promote you. I will promote it on LinkedIn, youtube and Twitter. Please share your LinkedIn and Twitter handle. When I post something, I will inform you that you can share and like and comment on it immediately to increase the number of your followers.

After the interview:

1. Please consent that I can use the recording and promote you. I will follow up with an email.
2. I post some shorts on youtube and/or LinkedIn. I will inform you and please share, like and comment it.
3. The main video will be launched and promoted. I will inform you that you share, like and comment.

Recording Preparation Checklist

- Make sure all participants use an updated Chrome, Firefox, Safari, Opera, Brave or Edge browser. SquadCast on iPhone and iPad are currently in Beta.
- Check internet stability. Ethernet cable is preferred over WiFi.
- Use an external mic, if possible.
- Using headphones gives the best audio quality.
- Disable VPNs and close all applications that don't need to be open.
- If you can't connect the mic/camera, make sure that you have given access to Chrome/Edge to use the mic/camera. Same goes for screen sharing.
- Check the background
- Check the light that your face is enlightened from all sides
- Reload the browser if you run into any problems.
